- supported by the European Parliament
- accredited by the Milan Bar Association and by the National Bar Council.
- Accredited by chartered accountants.
- Inserted in high school students activities within the context of PCTO¹ and the NRRP (National Recovery and Resilience Plan).

¹ The PCTO project (commonly known as school-work alternance) is an educational method designed to allow high school students to combine the mostly theoretical scholastic education with a practical work experience within a private or public entity. PCTO implies periods of professional formation in enterprises or other activities that may strengthen the students’ integration into the labour market (i.e. orientation days, meetings with companies and professionals, internships, research, project work etc.). The alternance has been made mandatory since 2015.
